

ALFIE BLOOM

Crazy Sandwiches!

Alfie Bloom's dad is always forgetting to go shopping, so he often makes sandwiches from whatever leftovers he can find in the fridge. Writing recipes for crazy sandwiches can be great fun. Here's one of mine, but you could include really weird or gross ingredients, like spider eggs or sock mould. Why not have a go at creating your own recipe on the next page?

Tangy Tongue Tingler

Ingredients:

- 1 bread bun
- Butter
- 10-15 sticks of spaghetti
- 2 tablespoons baked beans (warm or cold)
- 1 pickled egg
- 1 large mushroom
- 3 large boiled sprouts
- Salt and pepper

Method

1. On a chopping board, carefully halve the bun across the middle using a bread knife to give you a top and a base for your sandwich
2. Spoon the baked beans (warm or cold) onto the bottom half of the bun.
3. Slice the mushrooms using a sharp knife. Fry them in a little butter, then place them on top of the baked beans.
4. Boil the spaghetti for 8 minutes and then drain through a sieve. Tip the spaghetti onto the mushrooms.
5. Mash the boiled sprouts with a fork then scoop them onto the spaghetti.
6. Slice the pickled egg with a sharp knife and layer over the sprouts.
7. Sprinkle over a little salt and pepper, then place the top of the bun onto the sandwich.
8. Pick up the sandwich squish it together. Take a big bite and enjoy the flavours!
